Become a Mentor Today!

- Education is vital to a young person's success in life
- We need leaders in our community to serve as Take Stock in Children mentors
- It only takes one hour, once a week at a school near to your home or workplace

What is a mentor?

In just one hour a week, a mentor can change the life of a child. Mentors become friends and role models to students who may not otherwise have an adult in their lives to guide and direct their actions and choices. Take Stock's mentoring community includes people like Jeb Bush, Bill McBride, attorneys, teachers, executives, and a myriad of others who understand the value of education and the power of mentoring.

What is Take Stock in Children?

Take Stock in Children is a non-profit program that provides mentors and college scholarships to deserving low-income children in our community. Since 1995, Take Stock has changed the lives of over 5,000 children. It was recognized as the outstanding mentoring program of the year by the National Mentoring Partnership in 2002.

Take Stock students sign a contract with their parents pledging to:

- Stay in school and maintain good grades
- Stay away from drugs and violence
- Meet with a mentor
